The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. PRICE OF HUMAN LIFE INCREASING IN TENNESSEE

Within a few weeks six men have been executed in the penitentiary at Nashville—five white and one black.

They had committed murder. One was from Shelby county. One was from Middle Tennessee, and the four executed Wednesday were natives of East Tennessee.

The four young men killed after a death sentence made an impressive though gruesome spectacle.

These six persons had a fair trial in the lower courts. Their cases went on appeal to the supreme court. That court found no flaw in the legal procedure.

Then there were appeals to Gov. Taylor for executive clemency. Great pressure was brought to bear on the governor. His situation became most trying. Many women joined with men in asking for an extension of mercy. Ministers of the gospel, in their goodness of heart, lent their aid in the petitioning. "Uncle Alf" is as kindly as was his brother Bob. He loves life and loves people. The affair was peculiarly distressing to him. But he saw no legal or other reason for interfering. He did not make the laws. They functioned in legal justice towards the accused. Gov. Taylor, therefore, stood firm in devotion to his duty as chief executive and the law was given its due.

We have had hundreds of murder trials in these parts and only one has been executed in many years.

Even so these executions will stop some of our wild young fellows for a moment, and maybe in that moment they will do a little serious thinking.

These executions are reminders that the value of human life is increasing in Tennessee. When it rises to par—a life for the law when a life is wantonly and maliciously taken, then there will be less homicide here and elsewhere.—Commercial Appeal.

ONE OF THE SMITHS.

Philip R. Smith, claim agent for the Frisco, paid this office a call last Tuesday and spent a few pleasant minutes runnating over the days when he, too, was a happy-go-lucky Hayti citizen. But Philip R. made his escape about fourteen years ago, and since then has ridden the Frisco a million miles more or less, in the discharge of his duties. When the Frisco runs over a goat belonging to a farmer, which by the way, its trains never leave the tracks to do, Philip R. soon appears upon the scene looking as solemn and serious as a parson at a funeral—a hard thing for him to look—and tries, and generally does, convince the farmer if he will lay low and say nothing the Frisco will not bring suit against him for the goat's trespasses upon the company's property. Then Philip departs as he mops his eye with a handkerchief that hides the wink he gives himself, and the farmer changes his "chaw" of tobacco as he soliloquizes: "O h—l, the Frisco has a big heart, after all." We have all ways thought Philip missed his calling when he failed to enter politics, for Jeff Davis of Arkansas had nothing on him as a "good mixer." And, above all, this office is $3 richer by Philip's call. Come again, "Phil."

Sam White, county truant officer was perambulating in and around Hayti Tuesday, seeing what was and what was not in relation to "hookies," yet there are some who get by or around, or under, or over, as they manage to escape school and grow up in ignorance in the face of a compulsory law demanding the absorption of a free education.

PEMISCOT FARM BUREAU NEWS

MAYES URGES FARMERS TO STAND TOGETHER

Farmers' county mutual fire insurance companies are pointed out by Jewell Mayes, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture as proving the ability of farmers to stick together and make co-operative ventures succeed.

"Before the development of these farmers' insurance companies the rates sometimes ran up to $10 per $1000 per year, or $1 a year per $100," Mayes says. "In 1921 the annual cost of insurance in these farmers' companies was only 28 cents on the $100. This co-operative movement has spread from one single county until now it covers ninety-five counties, and it has been one of the very best self-helps the Missouri farmer has ever tried."

PIG CLUB.

The demand for bred gilts among the boys and girls in the county has been growing. A number of gilts have already been purchased and others will be bought within the near future. The following boys and girls have been assigned gilts: John R. Bader, J. Cahoon, R. S. Greenwell, Forest McCormick, Lyman Cunningham, Amos Treece, Willie Henley, Chas. Wilks, Frank Bruce, Paul Massey, Byron Tinsley, Brooksey Maxwell, Leonard Richard, Mary Blanche Greenwell, Nedtha McClanahan and Daniel Treece. Among the children who have made application for bred gilts are the following: Benton Smith, Nelson McClanahan, Cecil Aldridge, John Christian, Ersel Thurman, Paul Kinder, Wesley Moody, J. J. Ross, Chas. Settle, Geo. Bader, Jr., Clarence Bounds, D. R. Walker, Jr., and Isaac Frye.

This list of boys and girls shows that there is some interest being taken in club work, and we believe the scrub hog will soon be displaced by pure-breds that these children are introducing. There is still room for other children to get into the club and those who are interested should get in touch with the county agent.

POULTRY CLUB.

The poultry club is being organized and it looks as if a lot of business is going to be transacted this season.

SAYS FARMERS LIVE BY HOPE, FAITH, ACCIDENT

Washington, March 9.—A Minnesota farmer's wife, Mrs. Nels Radick, of Fulda, Minn., today told the Senate agricultural committee of the hardships and poor financial returns of farm life and advocated the Ladd bill for government fixing of prices on agricultural products.

"Farmers live by hope, faith and accident," Mrs. Radick told the committee. "We plow and sow in hope, live in faith and market by accident. The farmer, his wife and family got about five cents per hour for last year's work. Children on the farm are just vocal agricultural implements."

Mrs. C. W. Sullivan and son, Mort, arrived here from Stuttgart, Ark., Monday. Mrs. Sullivan joined her husband, who has been here for some time, in the employ of the Buckley store, and they will make their home here. Two other sons, Yancey and Wayne remained in the Arkansas town, where they are employed.

McADOO TO MOVE TO LOS ANGELES

His son, Francis H. McAdoo, will succeed him as a member of the New York law firm, McAdoo, Cotton & Franklin.

Asked whether he meant to retire from the practice of law, Mr. McAdoo said:

"No, sir; I intend my new life to be the beginning of greater activity than ever before."
